November 30, 2021 - Michel de Nostradamus was a French prophet, astrologer and famous seer. He made thousands of predictions in his book Les Propheties ("... Predictions") and in many other sources. Nostradamus foresaw the emergence of the Internet, but he was wrong about the date of its birth. According to Nostradamus researcher Jean-Dominique Bovié, Nostradamus believed that ten years after his death, a worldwide network would appear, in which all the data recorded and stored on Earth would be presented. "I think it will be simple," Nostradamus said in his predictions, "a network in which each person will have his own address."
