Arkitekturang Filipino: A History of Architecture and Urbanism in the Philippines. A short video gives a general idea of this complex. Fragment from it: Paul Heyman: Considered Architect and Jurist, Phillipines. Very interesting article, with many examples, for example: - On the Manila waterfront, Visitor center catering to "suburban clientele", built in the 1970s using wood and other materials. - His "Temple of Artemis" with an enchanting design of glass and concrete, built in 1975. - About his "Freedom Tower", built in 1984 at Expocentre. And another clip on the topic, with Frank Lloyd Wright: Wayne Ray, "Human Tendencies", 1984. Interesting enough, but because of the content, too dark to read on a standard monitor, so under the cut. More in the magazine: Stripped Reality: Cars, Accessories, and Patterns of Fashion - Learn how clothes are made and how they are designed from the inside out. Miracle Filipina: Filipinas of Future (1987) In the 1970s, talented designers were able to give the protagonist of these videos their voice, their image and try to beat them again. At the same time, unlike others, all these bright, memorable, recognizable images were not created by one fashion designer. Along with the main material, the accompanying material was not forgotten: souvenirs, primates, coats of arms and emblems, piercings, clothes and even shoes. We add here the sensational boutiques, fashion shows and other sensations, which noticeably enlivened the tape of the "most anticipated events of the city." Not without exaggeration, we can say that the "most anticipated events" of that time were looked at with interest! As a postscript, a quote from the book "Fashion Filipini" by Maria Banguriono: "In the 1950s and 1960s, many unusual and interesting people appeared in Manila, whose work reflected powerful emotional outbursts of mass consciousness, whose social status was often directly related # ## Publisher: Diliman, Quezon City: University of the Philippines Press, ISBN: (EAN): 9890094643X Dilima's publishing house, Quezon City, has published a book of short stories, The Golden Mean. Amazing, mysterious and unpredictable Ana Lis (Ana Lis) was born into a wealthy family in the city of Bocholt, which is located in the Bohol area. This tale is one of four in the collection "Three Worlds", which is an important part of his creative and educational activities. The golden cauldron is the most popular literary masterpiece. This story is complex and magical at the same time. It tells about the adventures of Kitten and Hurricane, they face a difficult task: not only to find the truth about the world, but also to maintain brotherly love between Kitten and Hurricane, who are the youngest of three sisters. This book contains four tales: - Ellie from Kansas; - Swan geese; - Magic stone. - The Secret of the Golden Egg. The old radio has eclipsed the whole world of amateur radio! All of a sudden, builders, radio amateurs, electric locomotive drivers, and even children appeared in the radio station shop - a radio amateur from the Thai city of Hambantota and a TV presenter from the London BBC program. And they ended up in the USSR, because they were not needed by their homeland abroad. Once I happened to visit the glorious city of Changshu. I went there with a specific purpose - to buy a map of Yunnan province and the book "Tales of Yuzhou Province", I also wanted to find a colleague in the rubber factory there and the same bartender from "Changsha Test Boger". Thailand, Changsha. In modern Changsha there is nothing even remotely resembling the former ancient port. A modern city is more of a business center than a center of cultural life. But among the modern business centers of the city there is also a pearl for tourists - its historical center, the Gion district, which has its own clearly defined and unique features.
