download G-Sonique VST VSTi SamplePack 10 08 2010 Bundle ASSiGNQ: Git pull cannot use terminal, but can ssh and clone I am new to git and have a problem pulling some code from a git repo. I followed the instructions in this post to access a git repo through the terminal. Today I tried to clone the source to my local github repo and tried to pull the updates to my local repo. However, I got a error message saying: remote: Counting objects: 7334, done. remote: Compressing objects: 100% (2595/2595), done. remote: Total 7334 (delta 1317), reused 7008 (delta 1109) Receiving objects: 100% (7334/7334), 2.33 MiB | 1.64 MiB/s, done. Resolving deltas: 100% (1317/1317), done. From github.com:myusername/myrepo * [new branch] master -> origin/master Already up-to-date. However, I can clone the repo via ssh and there is no problem with pulling updates, so I don't understand why I can't pull from the terminal. Any ideas why this may be? Edit: After running a git status and git pull I got the following output: $ git status On branch master Your branch is up-to-date with 'origin/master'. nothing to commit, working tree clean $ git pull fatal: Couldn't find remote ref master but: $ ssh github.com Hi git@github.com $ git status # On branch master nothing to commit, working tree clean $ git remote show * remote github Fetch URL: git@github.com:myusername/myrepo Push URL: git@github.com:myusername/myrepo HEAD is now at tz-a-new-branch A: I think the issue is that your user account on your local machine doesn't have commit rights. The git pull command you ran requires you to be able to commit changes. If you try running the git status command you can see that the remote repository is set up to prevent commits

The system requirements are minimum: It is..A part-time employment scheme could be put in place in the Murray Catchment. CHAIRMAN Mark Aitchison said it was a matter of when, not if, a rehabilitation scheme should be put in place for the Murray-Darling River system. He said it was important to get the details right before the next drought hit and there was a "real chance" that a proposal could be launched ahead of the next drought. Mr Aitchison said if the state government did not act, it would be taking an "extremely dangerous position" by leaving the Commonwealth to act. He said that decision making must be shared between the Federal and State Governments. "On (former Opposition leader) Malcolm Turnbull's watch and Tony Abbott's watch they've talked about rolling the Murray-Darling scheme up or waiting until 2020," he
